Short Talks On Advertising. A COK

Knowledge runs the world—the possession of it makes the millionaire, the lack of it, the pauper.

Mr. Merchant:

Did you ever stop and consider why it is that so many people make a failure of life in the same period of time consumed by others in winning success? One of the most important reasons for the condition described is that the successful man carefully considers many small items of business that the failure has overlooked. Take the advertising field, for instance. There's the fellow with the dyspeptic looking green grocery around the corner, hardly managing to eke out an existence. Does he advertise? No. Says the expense is too great-it might pay him, but he hasn't the money to start. He has overlooked entirely the thing that his successful neighbor has discovered, and that is that he can advertise economically, effectively and in one of the best of advertising mediums by using TEE-DEE WANT ADS. A few specials advertised regularly each day would soon interest the housekeepers, they would begin buying at his store and thus, by the expenditure of a trifle, only one cent a word, he could make the old dyspeptic green grocery the corner-stone of a flourishing

Don't fail to consider, Mr. Merchant, that housekeepers read Tee-Dee Want Ads.
